

Dear Government

I would like to express my sincere concern about the ruling on Broadcast Ownership (02-277) that allows more large corporations own a larger market share of the media industry. The FCC was created to protect the American people from this happening and insure the Freedom of Speech never be monopolized. I never seen such a gross example of agency capture in my extensive experience with agency law. I fully support the legislative veto that is pending against the FCC. I plea with all of the powers of heaven and earth that the FCC return to its original mission, to PROTECT the people. It is not the FCC's place to act in attempt to enrich the content of media by allowing more money to flow into and from large media corporations. The FCC must always place above all else what is important to the people's access to mass media.

Thank you
David Gunn
